

ASEAN Conical Optical Splitter Price

AI Overview

The price of ASEAN Conical Optical Splitters typically ranges from $5 to $50 per unit depending on type, split ratio, and supplier. Price Overview Optical splitters, including PLC (Planar Lightwave Circuit) and FBT (Fused Biconical Taper) types, are widely available in the ASEAN region through distributors and online marketplaces. Prices vary based on split ratio (1x2, 1x4, 1x8, etc.), fiber type, and packaging. For example, a 1x2 PLC splitter may cost around $5-$10 per unit, while higher split ratios like 1x16 or 1x32 can range from $20-$50 per unit depending on quality and manufacturer. Factors Affecting Price Split Ratio: Higher split ratios increase manufacturing complexity and cost. Type of Splitter: PLC splitters are generally more expensive than FBT splitters due to precision fabrication. Wavelength Range and Loss: Splitters with low insertion loss and wide wavelength compatibility may cost more. Supplier and Volume: Factory-direct or wholesale purchases can significantly reduce unit cost, especially for bulk orders. Sourcing in ASEAN Online Marketplaces: Platforms like Lazada and Made-in-China list multiple suppliers offering competitive prices and OEM/ODM options. Local Distributors: Many ASEAN countries have fiber optic equipment distributors who provide conical optical splitters with technical support and warranty. Customization: Some suppliers allow custom split ratios, cable lengths, and connector types, which may affect pricing. Recommendations Request Multiple Quotes: Compare prices from at least 3-5 suppliers to ensure competitive rates. Check Specifications: Confirm insertion loss, wavelength range, and packaging to match your network requirements. Consider Bulk Orders: Larger orders often reduce per-unit cost and shipping fees. By considering these factors, buyers in ASEAN can expect affordable, high-quality conical optical splitters suitable for FTTH, FTTP, or other fiber optic network applications.
