

Price of multiple overhead optical cables

AI Overview

Overhead fiber optic cable prices vary widely, typically ranging from $0.10 to $6 per foot depending on type, fiber count, and environmental protection. Price Ranges by Cable Type Single-Mode Fiber (OS1/OS2): Designed for long-distance communication, prices generally range from $0.10 to $2.80 per foot, depending on fiber count and manufacturer quality.

Multi-Mode Fiber (OM3/OM4): Suitable for shorter distances, these cables cost approximately $0.30 to $6 per foot, with higher prices for higher strand counts or premium materials.

Armored Fiber Optic Cables: Reinforced for high-risk areas, prices range from $0.50 to $6.50 per foot, offering protection against physical damage and environmental hazards.

Outdoor/UV-Resistant Cables: Built to withstand harsh weather, UV exposure, and water, these cables typically cost $0.50 to $5 per foot, depending on construction and fiber count.

Factors Affecting Pricing

Fiber Count: Higher strand counts increase cost proportionally. For example, a 12-strand cable may cost around $0.50 per foot, while a 24-strand cable can reach $1 per foot.

Material Quality: Premium glass fibers provide lower attenuation and higher performance but are more expensive than standard glass or plastic fibers.

Installation Costs: Labor, logistics, and mounting hardware for overhead deployment can significantly affect total project cost. Urban areas may incur higher labor rates, while rural areas may have additional delivery costs.

Connector and Termination Type: Pre-terminated assemblies or patch cables with factory-installed connectors increase the per-foot cost.

Environmental Protection: Armored or outdoor-rated cables designed for UV, water, or rodent resistance are priced higher than standard indoor cables.

Example Project Costs

Basic Overhead Run: 1,000 ft single-mode cable with minimal terminations: $0.40–$1.00 per foot, total ≈ $2,500–$3,100 including labor and accessories.

Mid-Range Outdoor Run: 2,000 ft outdoor cable with conduit and multiple terminations: $0.70–$1.60 per foot, total ≈ $4,900–$6,100.
